

Looking Forward: Specialist Rehabilitation Services in Ireland

How should these services be developed and delivered?

Friday 21st October 2011

Profile of Key Speakers

Dr Áine Carroll

Hails from the heart of the Mourne Mountains. Studied Medicine in Queens University in Belfast and did a postgraduate MD in Newcastle University, Newcastle upon Tyne. Completed higher specialist training in Rehabilitation Medicine in Newcastle upon Tyne and came to work in Dublin in 2005. Currently Consultant in Rehabilitation Medicine, President of the Irish Association of Rehabilitation Medicine, Clinical Lead for the Rehabilitation Medicine Programme of the Clinical Strategy and Programmes Directorate, HSE and Senior Clinical Lecturer, University College Dublin.

Special Interests:

- Acquired Brain injury Rehabilitation
- Spasticity management
- The use of ultrasound in Rehabilitation Medicine
- Botulinum toxin
- Chronic pain management
- Research in Rehabilitation
- Medicolegal aspects of Rehabilitation

Dr. Carroll has published on a wide variety of topics including life expectancy determination in disability, the use of botulinum toxin in spinal pain, osteoporosis in disability, whiplash injury and has presented at many national and international conferences on Rehabilitation Medicine topics.